

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and apparatus for determining patent license fee data in a networked computing environment. The method and apparatus involve an interactive process that provides the user of an end-user station an opportunity to modify patent license data generated by the networked computing environment for application in determining the patent license fee data.

Patent # 2,980,265